Key Contributors

I'm Liz O'Riordan, & I'm a Consultant Breast Surgeon. Ironically, in July 2015 I was diagnosed with Stage III breast cancer at the age of 40. I started a blog to help me come to terms with my cancer diagnosis, & now formally write & talk about my experiences. This led to me being nominated for a 'Woman of the Year' award in 2016. I have co-authored 'The Complete Guide to Breast Cancer' with Professor Trisha Greenhalgh. It covers everything you need to know to empower you during treatment, & is packed full of all the tips & tricks we learned along the way. I am a TEDx speaker, & regularly give inspirational key-note lectures about improving the quality of patient care, digital technology & exercise, amongst other topics. Twitter: @Liz_ORiordan

Peter Homa has extensive healthcare management experience including 27 years as a chief executive of local & national organisations. He was appointed as Chief Executive at Nottingham University Hospitals in 2006 until he retired in November 2017. He became a CBE in 2000 for his contribution to the health service. Peter was one of four independent experts who helped review Robert Francis QC's final recommendations following the Mid Staffordshire Foundation Trust public inquiry. He was also a member of the Freedom to Speak Up review, also led by Robert Francis, into creating the open & honest reporting culture in the NHS. Peter has a degree in economics & master & doctorate degrees in business administration. He has been Chair of the Association of UK University Hospitals, which represents academic & health interests across the country, between 2014 & 2017. Peter is also Chair of NHS Leadership Academy. Twitter: @PeterHoma

Kirsten Major is a health economist by professional background & worked extensively in this capacity within various NHS organisations in Scotland. She held her first Executive Director position in 2002 as Director of Policy & Performance in NHS Ayrshire & Arran before moving to the Strategic Health Authority in the North West of England as their Chief Economist in 2008. Prior to leaving in 2011 to join STH she was the Director of Health System Reform, responsible for community service reforms & the Foundation Trust pipeline. She joined STH as Director of Strategy & Planning, her portfolio was extended in 2013 to include Clinical Operations & Performance Management. She was appointed as Deputy Chief Executive in April 2017 & as well as retaining responsibility for Clinical Operations & Performance Management, this has been consolidated with the inclusion of Organisational Development, Workforce Planning & Service Improvement

Paula Ward is the Organisational Development Director at Sheffield Teaching Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust (STHFT). Paula started her life in the NHS in 2008. Paula heads up the Trusts Service Improvement, Leadership & Management Development, Equality, Diversity & Inclusion, Workforce Redesign & Listening into Action functions. Organisational Development at STHFT is about the planned development of organisational strategies, structures & processes in order to improve our organisations effectiveness & our collective contribution to the wider health & social care system. Paula has a range of qualifications, accreditations & licenses that support the depth & breadth of the OD portfolio at STHFT. Twitter: @paulawa00807044

Margie Godfrey is Director of The Dartmouth Institute Microsystem Academy & Instructor for The Dartmouth Institute for Health Policy & Clinical Practice, Geisel School of Medicine at Dartmouth, Lebanon, New Hampshire. Marjorie is a national & international leader of designing & implementing improvement strategies targeting the place where patients, families & care teams meet the clinical microsystem. Her primary interest is engaging inter-professional healthcare professionals in learning about & improving local health care delivery systems with a focus on team coaching, patients, professionals, processes & outcomes. Twitter: @MicrosystemMMG

1 The Art of the Impossible	David Crowther, CEO, Melandra Limited Martin Wildman Clinical Lead National CF CQUIN, Co-PI NIHR CF Programme, School for Health & Related Research Sheffield University	Human systems are shaped by human bias. Attention is dominated by the urgent. Optimising long term condition outcomes is dependent on the important but not urgent 365 day care so often out of sight & out of mind. This session describes the development & implementation of a complex intervention to move CF care from rescue to prevention. We describe scaling an intervention nationally whilst adapting implementation locally using behavioural insights that exploit human bias.	Botanical Gardens
2 The Sheffield MCA – a tasty taster	Steve Harrison, Head of Quality Improvement, Sheffield Teaching Hospitals Kathy Green Professional Lead for Chaplaincy & Microsystem Coach, Sheffield Children’s NHS FT & other MCA coaches	A ‘taster’ session for those wanting to find out more about the MCA. Delivered by coaches who have completed the MCA, you will explore some key concepts & experience some activities MCA coaches participate in. Additionally, there will be an engaging case study presentation & discussion by Kathy Green, cohort 8 MCA Coach who coaches the Cystic Fibrosis Team at Sheffield Children’s. Kathy will draw upon good & bad experiences of coaching, describing outcomes the team have achieved through their first year of microsystem improvement.	Hillsborough Park

1	Achieving Reliable Care. How to make the invisible visible in an acute NHS hospital.	Cindy Storer, Head of Nursing & Quality, Rebecca McCombe, Senior Sister, MSK&F Care Group, Doncaster & Bassetlaw Teaching Hospitals NHS FT Liz Watson, Project Manager, Patient Flow Programme, Improvement Academy	Achieving Reliable Care puts the patient & their needs at the heart of delivering quality care. It is an intervention, used by ward teams, to bring all aspects of the patient's plan in one place to aid the MDT. ARC makes the invisible, visible as each & every delay is captured. The myths about where inefficiencies lie are exposed. ARC helps patients to spend less time waiting in hospital by reducing length of stay	Norfolk Park
2	Older Surgical Patients Pathway: How we developed a cross-directorate, multidisciplinary team & improved outcomes for frail older people	Dr Rosie Lockwood, Consultant Geriatrician Mr Paul Skinner, Consultant Colorectal Surgeon Sister Sharon Grady, Nurse & service improvement manager Sheffield Teaching Hospitals NHSFT	We will describe how we have built a multidisciplinary team that works across traditional directorate boundaries to improve care for frail older people admitted to surgical specialities. We will share some patient stories & input from members of the team. It hasn't always gone to plan, however, & we will share some of the lessons we have learnt along the way, including how we are planning to move the service forward. There may also be cake!	Graves Park
3	Speaking the same language does not mean speaking the same language!	Gerke Lange, Speech & Language Therapist & MCA Coach, Sheffield Children's NHSFT	Our experience of speaking with, listening to & being heard changes as a result of different roles, assumptions & contexts (e.g. at home with family, at an interview, reporting a lost passport in a foreign country). I like to invite you to 'play cards' to experience our abilities to read 'signs' & communicate according to what we think is expected, then reflect on communication barriers & tools/ techniques how to 'build bridges' together with our patients.	Weston Park
4	"I've got an idea!": Overcoming resistance in QI work	Dr Philip White, FY2 Doctor, Peter Derrington, Quality Improvement Officer, Dr David Finlay, CMT Northumbria NHSFT	Handover in Northumbria is an issue which has been highlighted both internally & externally for several years. Multiple attempts have been made to address this without success. Using Flow Academy techniques, the Trust have re-thought their approach to this problem using ground-up initiatives partnered with Trust management. This session will explore some of the tensions we have faced putting QI techniques into practice & some of our successes & failures in developing collaborative, pragmatic improvements.
